

My name is Matt Davis, from the UK.

I am currently trainee engineer/mechanic in bike racing and looking for a new team?

I've worked previously with teams in British Moto3 Championship (Cresswell Racing) and Thundersport in the UK (Barrett Steel Racing).

Am still learning and looking to progress for the future. Especially to get on the world stage.

I've been passionate about racing since little, never had the opportunity to race myself. I am nearly 30 and closes I can do it now is to get hands on.

I've worked myself up from nothing over the years and sadly this year has been difficult mentally because of family relatives passing, but am determined to get back on track for 2020.
